The technique is as old as Socrates. Just read a few pages and take a short quiz. When you have covered the material, take the practice quiz. Review any questions you missed and take the second practice quiz. Now you are ready to pass the CDL test for Texas.

The CDL or Commercial Driver's License is your first step to making a great living as a commercial truck or bus driver. Step one is passing the CDL Commercial Drivers License General Knowledge Exam. The test is 50 questions with a minimum passing grade of 80%.

Once you pass this first test, Texas will give you a "learner's" permit. You are legal to drive as long as another CDL Commercial Driver is up in the cab with you.

While you are learning the skills you need to pass the "skills" or driver's test, you can go back to this guide and study your endorsements. As part of a CDL Commercial Driver's License for Texas you must pass several "mini" exams in the areas of hauling where you will make your living.

If, for example you decide to drive a big rig, you will need the "Air Brakes" endorsement of the CDL Commercial Driver's License Exam. If you go on to pull double or even triple trailers, there is a 20 question test as well. Bus drivers will need a "passenger Transport" CDL Commercial Driver's license. In some cases, you may need to take several tests. For example, If you wish to drive a cement truck, you will need your CDL Commercial Driver's General Knowledge Exam, the "Tank endorsement" and the "Air Brakes" endorsement. It may seem a little confusing at first, and maybe a little difficult, but fear not, this guide contains all of the new learning techniques built into our learning software.
